Another season, another first place finish on the mountain for Mohawk Trail's Addie Loomis.

Competing in the opening PVIAC alpine ski race of the season at Berkshire East, Loomis completed the giant slalom course in a time of 31.76 seconds, the best overall finish on the day.

Loomis wasn't the only Warrior with a stellar day on the slopes, as seven Mohawk Trail girls earned top 20 finishes. Emmy Sisum placed second (32.76), Sofiya Slocik-Gritzner took sixth (34.16), Lydie Pinkham earned eighth (34.77), Mae Hoff placed ninth (34.91), Brooke Koshinsky came in 13th (36.73) while Naomi den Ouden took 20th (38.03).

Caroline Makosiej (24th, 39.30) and Ohia Dellert (25th, 39.65) rounded out what was a stellar start to the season for Mohawk Trail.

The Warrior boys also had a strong showing on Thursday, placing three racers in the top 10.

Weston den Ouden took third (45.05), Grayson Bishop placed fifth (49.82) while Phineas Tuttmann came in eighth (50.2) on the slalom course.

Ben Zaronty took 21st (57.89) while Oliver Ferris placed 41st (1:05.66) to round out the top five Mohawk Trail finishers.
